Old Business

A. Library Status Update

Joan stated that the county wrote up an intergovernmental agreement draft. They are waiting for a response from the school. The draft is written up as all the library employees being school employees. The board discussed the hours that the library would be open for the public during the school year. It was requested that a sign-in sheet be placed at Jeanne's desk for public patrons. Arla passed out drafts of job descriptions she had written up.

B. Window sill

Joan reported that Chad came to look at the window sills.

New Business

A. Sub Application

An application for substituting in the library was passed around for the Board to look at. It was decided that after the background check came back clear, the sub could start working according to what was needed.

B. Programs Report

Marylou reported that the Summer Reading Program was a success with 52 children who had signed up. Summer Reading consisted of five programs and ongoing craft stations throughout July and August called, "Craf-ter-days". "Know Yourself, Know your Money" is continuing on as a monthly program hosted by Brittany Dark.

The Library Book Club is still meeting every month and is at 20 members.

Next Meeting
